Subject:	Client SSL certificate based login
Description:	Hi, I recently registered for an account at startssl.com and was interested to see that they are using client SSL certificates rather than username and passwords for login and wondered if this would be something that bitfolk might be able to offer? I don't really have much knowledge of SSL, so this may be completely impractical or not feasible for some reason, but I thought I'd suggest it as it seemed advantageous from both a security and single-signon/ease of use viewpoint.
